Why TLS?

Because we have a reputation for delivering exactly what we promise: smart solutions backed by an innovative approach and the highest level of client service. From due diligence hosting to closing book technology, TLS is a one-stop-shop for all your legal technology needs.

"We asked a great deal of you under very tight and trying conditions and you delivered wonderfully."

— Kaye Scholer LLP

Why Digital Closing Books?

At the end of M&A or bankruptcy proceedings, TransPerfect Legal Solutions' (TLS) proprietary closing book technology, Digital Closing Books, provides stakeholders with an organized, easy-to-use record of all relevant closing documents, presented in digital format on a CD-ROM. Digital Closing Books not only minimizes the need for unwieldy paper closing binders, but also facilitates simple, cost-effective reproduction and searching of all closing documents.

Key Features

- HTML-Based: Digital Closing Books operates through your internet browser, retaining the functionalities of Adobe Reader without the drawbacks of installing new software.
- Organized Index: Our multi-tier index enables you to quickly find the document you're looking for and provides hyperlinks to the PDF versions for easy accessibility.
- Straightforward Searching: Digital Closing Books allows for easy-to-use keyword and Boolean searching.
- Drag-and-Drop Files: Documents are easily transferred from the CD to anywhere on your computer by simply dragging the file to the desired location.
- Zero-Installation: Digital Closing Books requires no installation or special technical knowledge to operate.
- Green Solution: By scanning your documents to a CD, TLS drastically reduces paper consumption and increases portability.

Dedication You Can Trust

TLS takes the headache out of closing documents by putting them in an easy-to-use digital format and reducing the amount of time and money devoted to the closing process. Moreover, TLS backs every offering with our dedicated account managers and technical specialists—available 24/7 to meet your every need.
